Pitt's Department of Philosophy is one of the best in the country, with a long tradition of teaching excellence. A major in philosophy provides excellent preparation for such professions as law, medicine, and business. The conceptual sophistication imparted by training in philosophy is invaluable in virtually any field of learning or any profession. Students majoring in biology, psychology, history, or computer science would do well to pick up a second major in philosophy, a suggestion that the Department of Philosophy supports by offering standard and intensive major options. Students who do especially well in either the standard or intensive major program graduate with honors in philosophy. Because of the superior national reputation of the Department of Philosophy, a primary or secondary major in philosophy helps a graduate gain entry into a good graduate or professional school.

- PHIL 1140 Empiricism
- PHIL 1170 Kant

Logic
- PHIL 0500 Introduction to Logic
- PHIL 1500 Symbolic Logic

Select five 1000-level courses from Group 1 and four courses from Group 2, beyond any chosen in the previous groups.

Group 1 – choose five courses
- PHIL (1020 - 1190): History of Philosophy
- PHIL (1300 - 1390): Value Theory
- PHIL (1420 - 1490): Metaphysics and Epistemology
- PHIL (1500 - 1690): Logic and Philosophy of Science
- PHIL 1____ (1000-level elective except PHIL 1904 / PHIL 1941)
Group 2 – choose four courses
PHIL 1940 *
PHIL 1941 * / PHIL ______ (elective - any level)
PHIL ______ (elective - any level)
PHIL ______ (elective - any level)

* The student must gain permission to register for this course from the faculty member who has agreed to supervise the student's work on a senior thesis. Neither PHIL 1940 nor PHIL 1941 count toward the five 1000-level courses mentioned above.

Grade requirements: Students must earn at least a C in each course that is to count toward the major.

Writing (W) requirement: Students must complete at least one W-course in the major.

Satisfactory/No Credit option: There is no limit to the number of courses that can be taken on an S/NC basis.

Related area: A minimum of 12 credits is required in any one Dietrich School department chosen in consultation with the major advisor. The completion of an official Dietrich School minor or a Dietrich School or UCIS certificate also satisfies this requirement.

Honors major requirements: Students who complete the standard major, intensive major, or joint major will graduate with honors in philosophy if they have earned a grade of A-or better in at least six 1000-level PHIL courses, exclusive of PHIL 1902, PHIL 1903, and PHIL 1904.

Joint majors with philosophy: Joint majors are not double majors but are multidisciplinary majors offered by two or more departments. The Department of Philosophy offers a joint major in Politics and Philosophy with the Department of Political Science, which is administered by the Department of Political Science. Consult the Department of Political Science for additional information.
