

Pitt

Kenneth P. Dietrich
School of Arts and Sciences

Ancient Greek Minor

www.Classics.Pitt.edu

Revised: 05/2019

Classics is an interdisciplinary program devoted to the study of the ancient Greek and Roman civilizations. Students may focus on the classics language track or the classical civilization track. Besides the sequences in the Greek, Latin, and Sanskrit languages, the department offers courses in Greek and Roman archaeology, art, history, linguistics, literature (including comparative literature), mythology, philosophy, and social history.

Checklist for the Ancient Greek minor

The Ancient Greek minor requires 12 credits of Greek courses for completion, detailed as follows.

- _____ GREEK 0011
- _____ GREEK 0021
- _____ GREEK 0210
- _____ GREEK 0220

Advising

Nicholas F. Jones
CL 1518
412-624-4475
NFJones@Pitt.edu

Note: Students must apply for any official minor they will complete or have completed when they apply for graduation.