Experiential Learning is a broad term for any kind of education resulting from direct, usually hands on, work in a field or area of interest. Commonly, it refers to research and creative expression, internships and co-ops, and development of pet projects. Check this document on a term to term basis, as it will be updated regularly. Last updated: Fall, 2018.

- Research and Creative Expression Resources
  - University Library System
  - University Departments and Schools
    - Department or school mailing lists or social media
    - Research resources by department
  - University Honors College
    - Fellowships
    - Field Studies
    - Email listing and facebook page
  - Office of Undergraduate Research
    - Undergraduate Mentors
    - Field Studies
    - Research Awards
  - Undergraduate Research Page

- Internship and Co-op Resources
  - Handshake
  - PittSource
  - University Honors College
    - Internship awards
  - SSOE - Coop Program
    - Primarily for Engineering, IS, CS, Chemistry

- Global Learning
  - Student Affairs International Internship Center
  - University Center for International Studies
    - Student Funding
    - Pitt Study Abroad
    - Foreign Language and Area Studies Fellowships

- Pet Project Resources
  - Undergraduate Studies Page
  - Writing Center
  - Student Organizations
    - Creative Expression: ARTificial
    - Education and Volunteering: Biology Club
    - Team Projects: CSC
    - Competitions: DATAS